

HOP's Motto

Vires In Fraternitate

translates to

Strength In Brotherhood.

Connecting Veterans and First Responders with their peers creates a support network that renews the camaraderie and brotherhood they felt while in the service.

This connection can mean the difference between depression and isolation, or inclusion and belonging.

We are losing 44 Veterans a day to suicide and a large number of First Responders.

Do you wish you could do something to help?

HOP was founded by a retired Army medic who personally knows the pain Veterans feel at that critical moment. “No man left behind” is a commitment we all lived by while serving. There's no reason to abandon that promise now.

We can stem the tide of Hero suicide simply by being a friend. Come to a Gathering.

See how YOU can be a part of The Heroes Outreach Program.
